MARY WATKINSON

"HELP FOR HEROES" APPEAL

In 1965 I was an officer cadet at the RAF College, Cranwell, with my future career as a pilot stretching out before me. One day a glass door slammed in front of me and automatically I put out my hand to stop it. This was before the days of "Health and Safety"; the glass shattered, severing tendons in my right hand. After plastic surgery at the RAF Hospital Halton, I was fortunate enough to go to the RAF Rehabilitation Unit at Headley Court, where painful and often frustrating physiotherapy ensured that six months after my accident I was able to resume my studies at Cranwell and gain my wings. As a result I flew helicopters in the RAF for the next forty years.

I was lucky — I did not lose my fingers, which would have put a stop to any possibility of flying. And yes, I was very lucky that I am naturally left handed! But you need both hands (and feet) to fly an aircraft. Had it not been for the superb treatment I received at Headley Court, I certainly would not have been able to do the job, which has been my life.

You may have seen in the press the charity appeal "Help for Heroes", which has been launched to assist those who have been so badly injured in the conflicts in Iraq, Afghanistan and other places. Jane and I don't wish to express an opinion on war, but we should like to give something back to these brave people, who have been maimed in the name of freedom and enable them to benefit from the services Headley Court can provide. We would like to invite you to our home, Lindum House, on Saturday 1st December between 12 noon and 4pm for a glass or two of wine to raise money for this appeal to improve facilities at Headley Court. Please don't think you have to have military or political connections — just come for an enjoyable hour or so and give whatever you can.

FROM REVEREND MARGARET

Now that the Harvest Festivals are over, we can look forward to two more very busy months. The Harvest Festivals were very pleasant and sociable occasions in all three parishes and attendances were all up. We were entertained to school harvest breakfasts, to pasty suppers, to lunches and Young Fanners suppers. Good sums of money were raised and it will all go to charities.

Thursday 1st November is All Saints Day and we shall be having a celebration of Holy Communion in St Mabyn Church at 7pm. It is a very important date in the Christian calendar, so please make every effort to attend.

On Friday 2nd November, we shall be holding our quiet "All Souls Vigil", when we remember those whom we have loved but see no longer. As usual there will be the opportunity to light a candle and the names of our departed loved ones will be read out. Lists for names will be placed in all three churches on 21st October, or if you cannot get to church to write the name, please contact me.

We continue our "remembering" on Remembrance Sunday, which this year actually falls on a Sunday. There will be services and Acts of Remembrance at St Mabyn at 10.15, at Michaelstow at 10.30 and at St Tudy at 10.50am. The address at St Tudy this year will be given by Col Anthony ffrench-Blake of Michaelstow, who was a member of the Diplomatic Corps and served many, many years in the Middle East. Also at that service, we shall be putting to rest in St Tudy church, a standard of the RNVR. This is quite an honour for St Tudy.

On Friday 30th November, the "Friends of St Mabyn" are hosting a lunch in St Mabyn's beautifully refurbished village hall. The menu will be a starter of either soup or florida cocktail, cottage pie and vegetables, choice of dessert, tea or coffee and a glass of wine. The lunch will be followed by a talk on Gallipoli by Miss Naomi Sharman, M.A., who works at Lanhydrock and has made a study of the battles of the world wars. In order to help with the catering, admission will be by ticket only (£12). Tickets will be on sale from the beginning of November, but if you wish to reserve your tickets please contact me. I am sure that the subject matter of Naomi's talk will be of interest to many people, so please tell your friends in other parishes about it. If anyone is willing to make a cottage pie or pudding, I shall be delighted to accept their offer. Thank you.

On 1st December, John Brendon-Cook will be celebrating his 25th anniversary of his Priesting and his 50th anniversary of ministry. There will be a special celebration of Holy Communion at St Mabyn Church at 12 noon on that day, at which John will be Celebrant. This will be followed by a "faith lunch" in the village hall, to which everyone is invited. I do hope that you will come along and support John on his very special day.

Sunday 2nd December at 11.05 is the day on which the Bligh memorial will be dedicated. There is no doubt whatsoever that William Bligh is one of St Tudy's famous sons and it is very fitting that his memorial is in the church. Bishop Roy, who is the Bishop of St Germans, will be with us on that occasion, and it will also be a joint service.

I do hope to have an Advent group and details will be announced in the December Magazine along with Christmas services.

I should also like to take this opportunity of offering to Ivy and Sid, our deepest sympathy on the death of Ivy's mum, May Halls, who will be greatly missed in the village. Ivy and Sid and May are very much in my prayers.

May God bless you all.

ST MABYN GARDEN CLUB

The Chairman John Lobb welcomed members to the first meeting of the season and also welcomed the new secretary Angela Burnley, telephone 01208 841511.

Our speaker for the evening Peter Davies had visited us before and gave such a fascinating talk on Bodmin Moor we just had to invite him again. This time the talk was on the North Cornwall Coast starting at the Minack Theatre and finishing just over the border in Devon at Hartland Point. It was a wonderful tour with superb slides, which included aerial views. As Peter had walked the cliff path on many occasions he was full of interesting information not obtainable from any guide-book. He even included tales of spiritual occurrences. A talk not to be missed.

Sales of plants, a raffle and refreshments rounded off the evening. Our next meeting is on 14th November when Mr Martin Pallett will be giving a talk on 'Learning from Gardens of the Past'.

VICE-ADMIRAL WILLIAM BLIGH

Further to the letter from Derek Handover in October's Magazine, the Faculty granted by the Chancellor of the Diocese of Truro is based upon the advice and recommendation of the Diocesan Advisory Committee. That Committee had to be satisfied with the proposed inscription on the memorial stone before our proposed change to the "structure" of a Grade I Listed building (the placing of a memorial stone) had its approval. The committee would not agree to any wording claiming that Vice Admiral William Bligh was either born or baptised in St Tudy, as it was not persuaded that there was evidence to support such a claim. In the event a Faculty was granted for a memorial stone to be inscribed as follows:

"William Bligh, FRS, 1754-1817, vice-Admiral of the Blue – Celebrated Navigator: "He spent part of his childhood at his ancestral home, Tinten, St Tudy"

The relevant documentary evidence is confirmed by copies of entries in the Parish Registers of St Andrew's Church, Plymouth that show a marriage between Francis Bligh and Jane Pearce on 3 November 1753 and the Baptism of "Wm Son of Francis and Jane Bligh" on 4th October 1754. A copy of that baptismal record I have.

The Dictionary of National Biography revised in 2005 and accessible on the internet states "Bligh, William (1754-1817), naval officer and colonial governor was born in Plymouth on 9th September 1754, the only son of Francis Bligh" and baptised at St Andrew's Church, Plymouth on 4th October 1754. It also records that the marriage took place on 3rd November 1753 at St Andrew's church, Plymouth, where William was baptised less than a year later. Francis died on 27th December 1780. The Wikipedia Encyclopaedia states that "Bligh was born in Plymouth, Devon to Cornish parents, Francis and Jane Pierce (Pearce) (nee Balsam)". She was a widow.

Gavin Kennedy in his book "Captain Bligh the man and his mutinies" states on page 1 that "William Bligh's place of birth is variously stated as St Tudy, near Bodmin and Plymouth. For certain he was baptised at St Andrew's Church, Plymouth...."

The International Genealogical Index records "William Bligh, birth 9 Sep 1754 Plymouth, Devon, England" the parents being Francis Bligh and Jane Pierce.

There is no doubt and it has never been suggested otherwise, that William Bligh, the admiral to be, did reside for some part of his childhood at Tinten, for long the ancestral home of the Bligh family. (See Maclean "The Parochial and Family History of the Deanery of Trigg Minor", 1879, pages 337-9). The only live issue is the place of birth and the preponderance of evidence is that this was at Plymouth. It may be that local folklore tells a different story and some documentary evidence asserts that the birth took place at Tinten. In the end, however, we have no evidence to this effect.

Raymond Wood's "Guide to the Ancient Parish Church of St Tudy" states that Admiral William Bligh's father was Charles Bligh and that is incorrect. On the basis of that error, he then incorrectly assumes that the son, William Bligh, (the child of Charles Bligh who was baptised in St Tudy on 13th February 1757) was the Admiral.

There is also some confusion over registration of births, marriages and deaths. Since 1837, it has been necessary to register these events with a public officer but in 1538 (29, Hemy VIII), priests were required each week in the presence of their wardens to enter in to a book, particulars of all the baptisms, marriages and burials, they conducted that week. This is a record quite independent of the statutory record. The Order was repeated in 1547 and 1563 and old records of churches may usually be inspected at the relevant County Record Office. A record of the baptism of William Bligh can be found in the Plymouth and West Devon Record Office.

G.N.G.

DEDICATION OF THE WILLIAM BLIGH MEMORIAL STONE

On Sunday 2nd December, Roy, Bishop of St Germans will attend the morning Holy Communion Service in the course of which he will dedicate a memorial stone that will be engraved:

"William Bligh, FRS, 1745-1817, Vice-Admiral of the Blue: Celebrated Navigator. He spent part of his childhood at his ancestral home, Tinten, St Tudy."

At the conclusion of the service refreshments will be served. This occasion will be treated as a Benefice Service to which all members of the congregations of St Mabyn and Michaelstow and members of St Tudy Methodist Church congregations are cordially invited. In addition descendants of the Admiral will be attending this special occasion.

HOST

For 20 years, HOST has been linking international students at British universities with volunteer hosts, for short, enjoyable and mutually beneficial visits. Last year, several hundred adults, from all over the world, enjoyed discovering Christmas in private homes across the UK, quite a number receiving invitations in Cornwall. Sadly, though, many eager applicants had to be disappointed.

If you think you might like to welcome an international student guest for two or three days, please look at www.hostuk.org or call HOST's voluntary regional organiser, Margaret Stevens 01326 341212. HOST is a registered charity, founded by the British Council and the Foreign Commonwealth Office, to promote international friendship and understanding.

MICHAELSTOW

The Harvest Festival was held at Michaelstow Parish Church on Sunday 7th October. The church was beautifully decorated with produce and flowers. After the service, which was well attended, a pasty supper and auction was held. £210 was raised for the Mermaid Appeal. Thanks to all who attended and supported the festival.

On 21st November, there will be a luncheon, with raffle, at Treveighan Chapel community room, starting 12noon – 2pm. All proceeds to Mount Edgcumbe Hospice. Wheelchair access. All welcome.

TREVEIGHAN METHODIST CHAPEL HARVEST FESTIVAL

We would like to thank all who came to our Harvest Festival on 1st September and made it such a special occasion. The Chapel looked beautiful with flowers, fruit and produce in the windows and on tables. Mr Simon Walsh from Okehampton led the worship.

On the following evening, the Chapel was again crowded for the sale of produce. Bidding was very strong on some items, with people determined to secure delicious specimens of fruit or vegetables. The fun was followed by cups of tea and biscuits. Thank you to all who came and supported us.

ST TUDY W I

The September meeting opened with our President, Mrs Judith Jasper, welcoming members and informing them that we have achieved Highly Commended for our entry in the best kept Village Competition held recently. Members Mrs S Dibble, Mrs M Lobb and Mrs Y Nobbs also received commendations for their St Tudy WI programme 2007/2008.

The President drew members' attention to the leaflet entitled "Ecolife" which was enclosed with the September copy of the monthly WI Magazine. Members were invited to obtain the Carbon Challenge form individually to find out if they were saving energy. It was felt that the majority of members in St Tudy already were saving energy due to the NCDC providing us all with coloured bags to recycle our plastics, tins, glass, papers and clothing.

Mrs Jasper reminded members that the Wadebridge stock show will be held on 12th November and gave out a list of recipes for anyone entering the show.

The speaker of the month was Paul Atkins — Cosmetic Acupuncture. A couple of our brave members agreed to have treatment which they assured us all was quite painless. We were all given an acupuncture needle to inspect. A most interesting and informative talk. Mrs P Gobbitt gave the vote of thanks.

The competition design for a tattoo was, 1st Mrs S Dibble, 2nd Mrs P Gobbitt and 3rd Mrs Y Nobbs.

The flower of the month, 1st Mrs Y Nobbs, 2nd Mrs B Starr and 3rd Mrs S Dibble.

The raffle was won by Mrs M Halls.

The next meeting will be held on Friday 19th October at 7pm. The speaker will be John Harris on "Gardening by the phases of the moon".

St Tudy WI will be holding a luncheon, costing £6 a head, to celebrate its birthday in the Village Hall on Sunday 25th November at 12.30 for 1pm.

Everyone is welcome. Please give names and numbers who would like to come to Judith 850796 or Maggie 850389.

ST TUDY THURSDAY AFTERNOON CLUB

Apologies to everyone for the late cancellation of the October meeting on 11th.

Unfortunately the lady from the RSPB who was to give her presentation had to attend a funeral in London, and could not inform me of the situation until it was too late to arrange another speaker. I must add that during the past 4 years we have had very little problems of this kind, but they do happen.

At our next meeting on Thursday, 15th November we will have a return visit by Peter Davies, who will give a presentation with visual aids on the history and interests of Bodmin Town. Many will remember his enjoyable presentation on the subject of Bodmin Moor. 2.30pm at the Village Hall. Tea and Biscuits included. All are welcome.

Mr Ivan Colston won the Cup for most points in Vegetable Section, the Dick Lamerton Cup for best Vegetable Collection and the F and M Hinson Memorial cup for most points in Flower Section. Mr John Edward-Collins won the Runner up cup in Vegetable Section and Mrs Jenny Keat the Runner-up cup in flower Section. Mrs Ruth Wright won the cup for the Best Flower Exhibit with a glorious rose, while Mr Raymond Jago took the M E L Williams cup for Best Exhibit in Vegetables with a magnificent stand of 24 onions.

ST MABYN PARISH COUNCIL

At our September meeting, 8 of the 10 Parish Councillors were present. Also Cllr C Mutton (District Council) and Cur C Brewer (County Council) and 3 members of the public.

Public Session: Members of the public expressed their concerns about the proposed development on land adjacent to Corfe House, St Mabyn. Cllrs C Mutton and C Brewer answered questions in relation to local District Plan, the Government legislation on the provision of affordable housing, rentable housing, shared ownership and the development boundary at St Mabyn. Cllrs C Mutton and C Brewer reiterated the pleas for the need for affordable housing and asked the Council to identify any area that could be developed for this purpose, within or on the edge of the development boundary. Cllr C Brewer reported on the Government decision to accept the County Councils bid for a Unitary Authority for Cornwall. It was anticipated that the County would be covered by 16 network areas, 5 being in North Cornwall.

Planning Matters: 2006/02529 Congent (UK) Ltd, Longstone Filling Station. ALLEN VALLEY SINGERS

Our Annual Concert took place on Sunday 7th October at St. Teath Church, full to Capacity. Our guest choir was the Irnerys Male Voice Choir, under the conductorship of Barry Hawken and accompanied by Merle Oliver. The singing was eminently enjoyable and highly successful, receiving enthusiastic applause. The piece-de-resistance was the supper in the Village Hall afterwards. A lady was heard to say to a friend, "Is there a wedding going on?" Thanks to all those who worked so hard on that special evening.

The choir staged a successful coffee morning on Saturday 22nd September, at The Clink, in St Tudy and raised £160 for the Cystic Fibrosis Society. This charity is very near to our hearts. Amber, one of our younger and valued members, has the disease, which affects the internal organs, especially the lungs and digestive system. This makes it hard to breathe and digest food.

The results of our decorative box-making workshop held in October will be used at St. Tudy Santa Fair on Saturday 6th December and also our own Coffee/Craft morning at St. Kew Highway Village Hall on the morning of the same day. What a busy lot we all are!! We have had several new members since we started back in September. We welcome them and look forward to a happy musical association.

Newcomers are always welcome. Please apply to our Musical Director, Janette Man, Telephone 01208 841784, Bookings for the choir can be made by contacting Jennifer May, Telephone 01208 880131. Other enquiries to Secretary, Telephone Jenni Tarring, 01208 841329.
